ZONING

The property is currently zoned A – Agricultural within the City of Brampton and is located within the boundaries of the approved Highway 427 Industrial Secondary Plan.

While the existing Agricultural zoning permits limited rural and agricultural uses, the property is designated for future industrial development under the Secondary Plan, supporting a range of employment uses such as logistics, warehousing, and manufacturing through future rezoning.

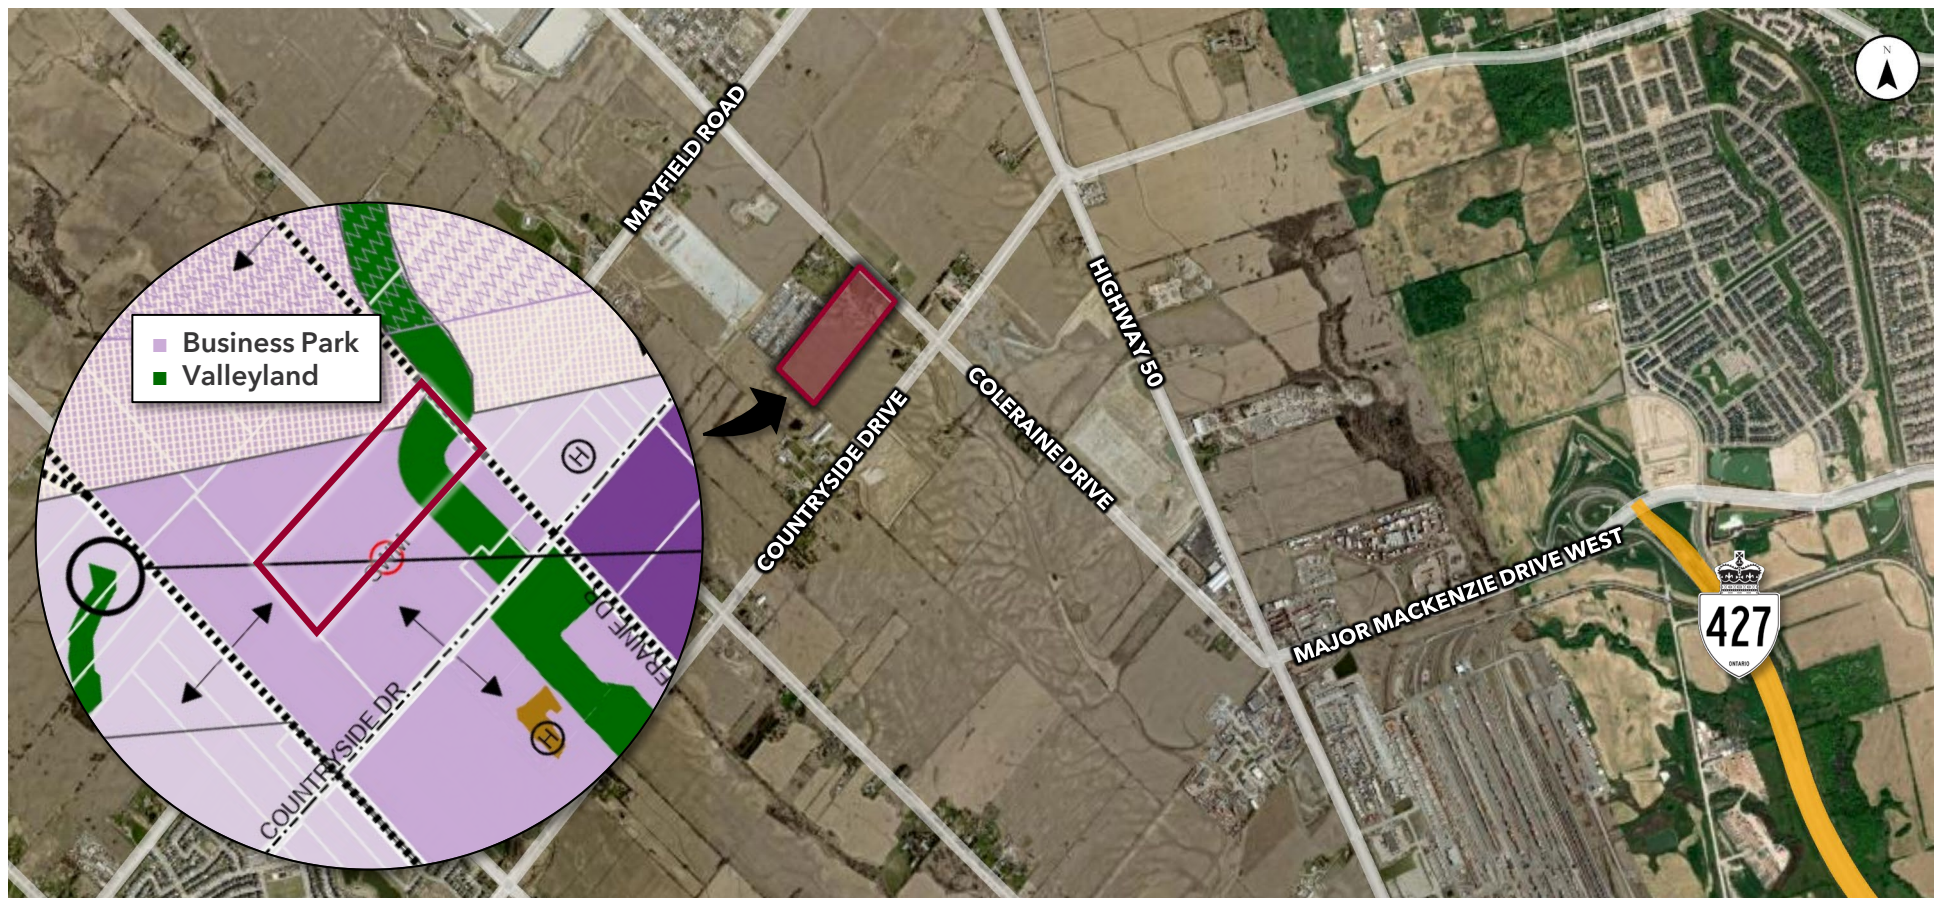

Development of the site will be subject to full municipal servicing, rezoning, and subdivision approval, with planning policies in place to guide the transition from agricultural to industrial land use in support of Brampton's long-term employment growth objectives.

HIGHWAY 427 INDUSTRIAL SECONDARY PLAN | BUSINESS PARK

The property is designated Business Park within the applicable Secondary Plan, permitting a broad range of employment uses including light manufacturing, warehousing (with a minimum 5% office component), logistics, offices, and business support services. Ancillary retail, hotels, and limited outdoor storage are also permitted, subject to design and location criteria set out in the zoning by-law.

Business Park policies emphasize high-quality urban design, particularly along arterial roads, and limit outdoor storage and truck/trailer parking to screened and set-back areas not fronting major streets. Development is subject to compliance with the implementing zoning by-law and may require a tertiary plan or concept plan to ensure coordinated servicing, access, and land use integration.

HIGHWAY 413 EXPANSION

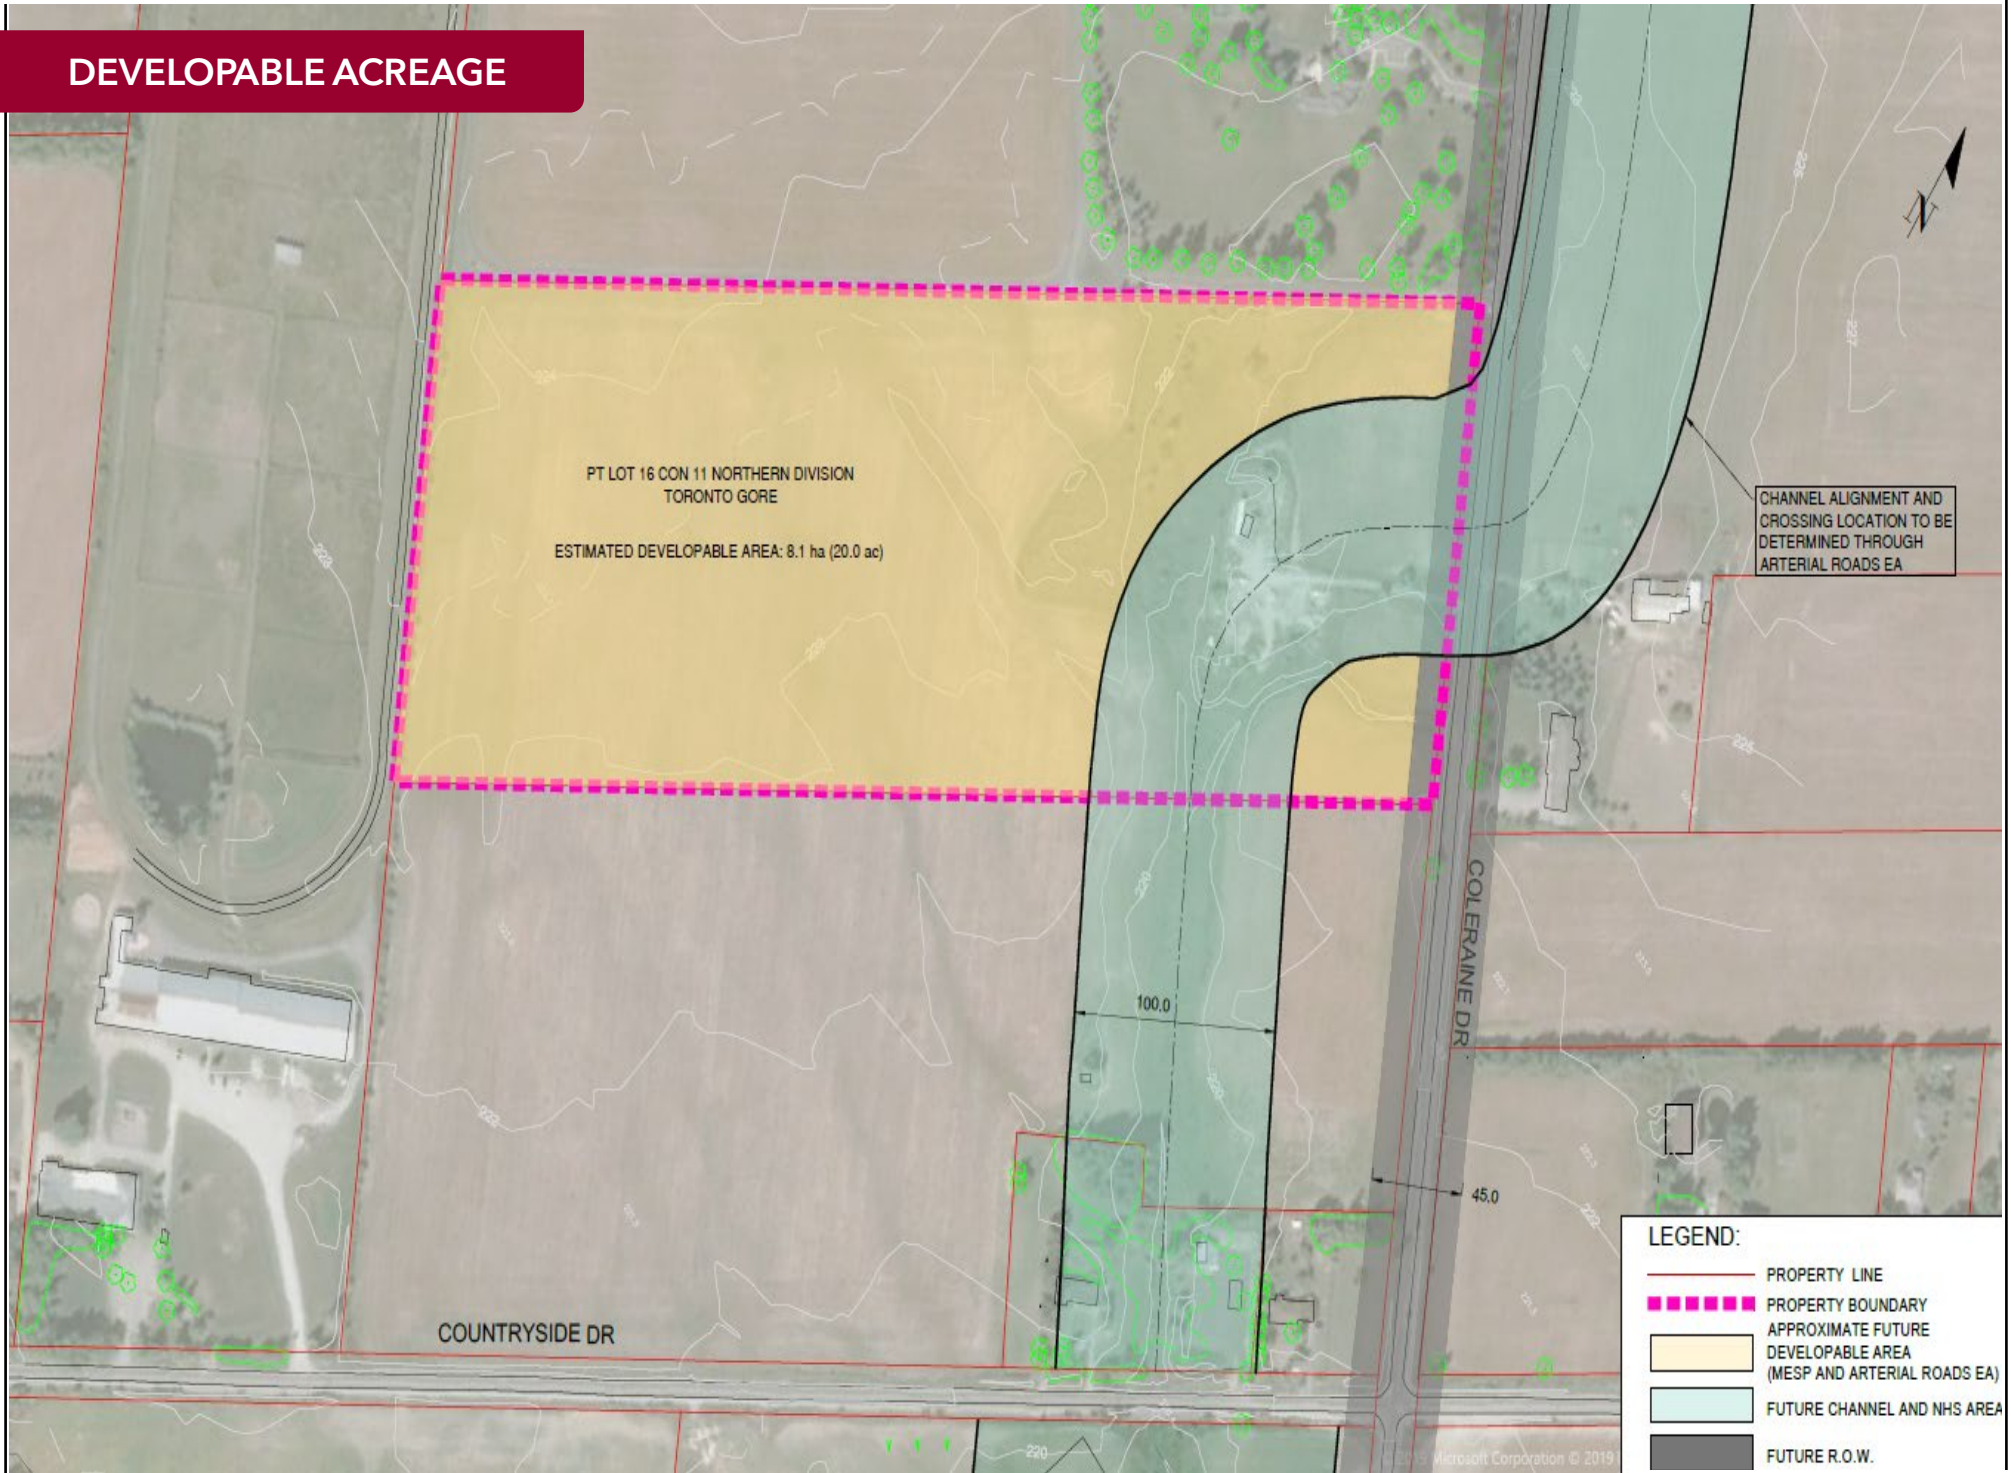

Highway 413 is a proposed 52 km transportation corridor through York, Peel, and Halton Regions, with extensions along Highways 410 and 427. The project will include multiple interchanges, service centers, carpool lots, EV charging stations, and a dedicated public transit route that is designed to ease congestion and support the Greater Toronto Area's growing population.

This highway infrastructure will enhance access to underserved communities, reduce commute times, and attract skilled labor and businesses to newly designated employment hubs. With 90% of the preliminary design completed, construction could begin as early as late 2025.

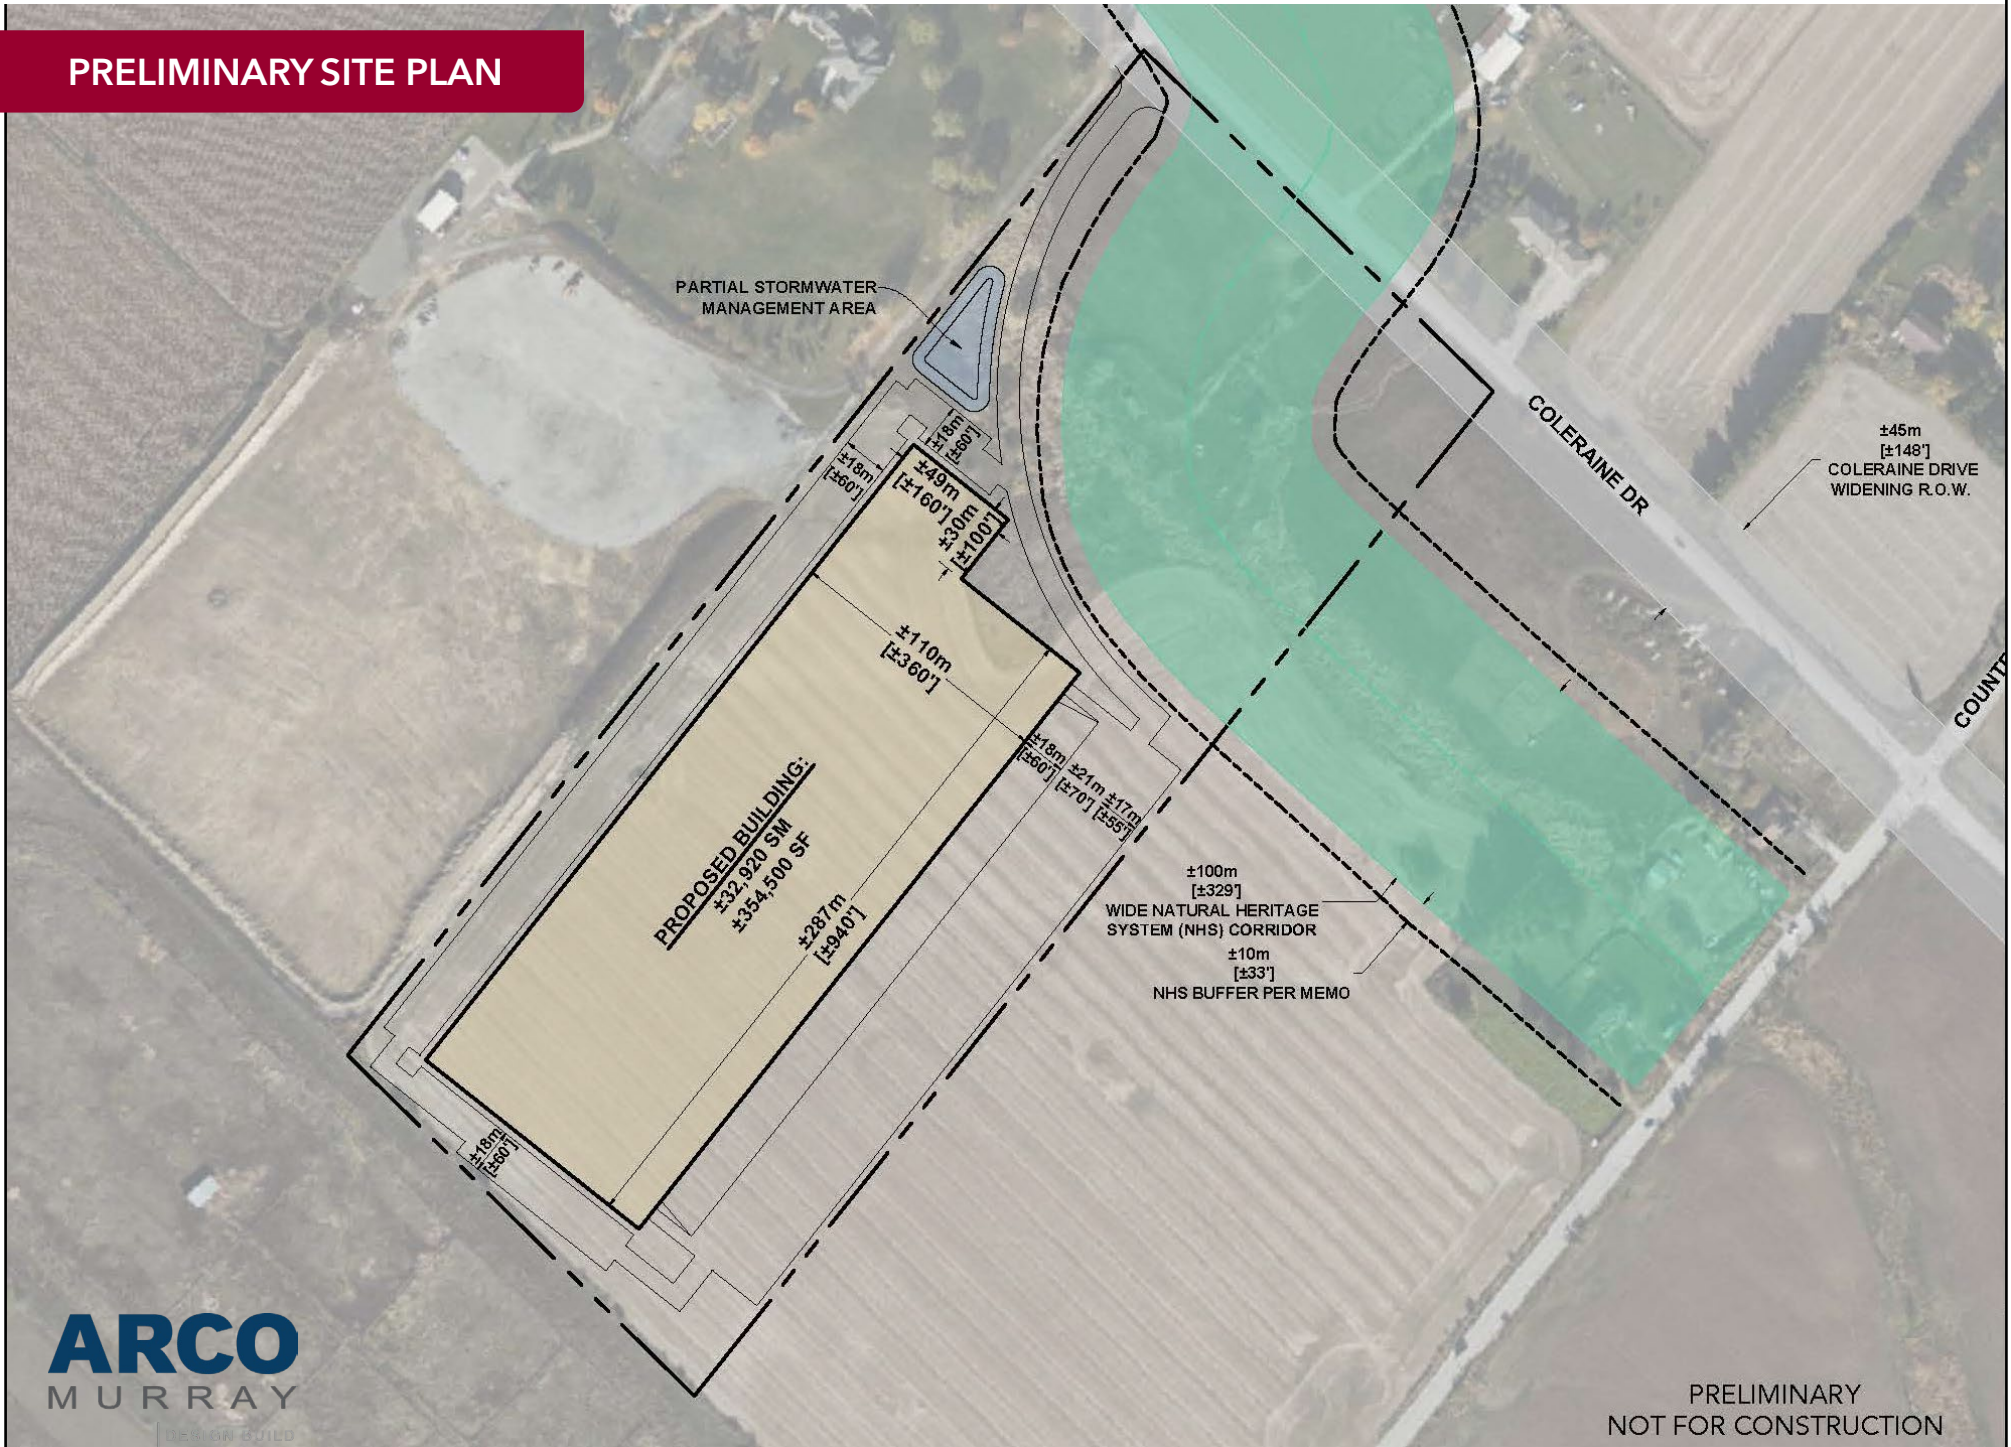

*The accuracy of this map is based on the draft Preliminary Design, which is subject to change based on the assessment of environmental impacts being undertaken in accordance with the process set out in the Highway 413 Act.
